DID YOU KNOW...

Perhaps you already know that Pinot Gris and Pinot Grigio are the same wine. What's surprising is that the gray-red grape that makes these wines is a mutation of Pinot Noir, the mysterious mother grape to all Pinot wines (e.g. Pinot Noir, Pinot Blanc, Pinot Gris etc).

Whiskey is not the same as Whisky

There is some debate about whether or not Scottish distilleries are the only ones who can call (spell) their whisky, whiskey. But the general consensus is this:

Whisky: Scottish only | Whiskey: Everyone else
Factoid: Scots spell it without the "e" because they believe more vowels waste good drinking time.

Drink Up!!!

A survey that was being held in Australia said that women that drink 2 cups of wine a day tend to enjoy sex more than women who don't drink at all.

Say What?

In ancient Rome it was forbidden for women to drink wine. If a husband found his wife drinking wine he would be allowed, by law, to kill her.

Whiskey is beer (without the hops)* that's been distilled two or three times. "To distill whiskey you first have to make beer. Beer is a technical term for whiskey wash, regardless of the type of raw ingredients used."

Update: Actually, most of the Bourbon and Tennessee whiskeys are made using hops (as an antibacterial) to propagate their yeast. Jack Daniels recently stopped using hops. Some Canadian distilleries use hops. It's only Ireland and Scotland that don't.

The custom of bumping glasses with a “CHEERS” greeting came from old Rome where they used this method to make sure no one is trying to poison the other (bumping glasses makes the drink spill from one cup to the other).

This tradition started even earlier in ancient Greece - where the host was to drink the first cup of wine to show his guests he does not intend to poison them.

There are 5-7 whiskey regions

Depending on whom you ask, there are between 5 and 7 different main regions where whiskey is distilled.

The five regional whiskeys always included are: Scotch Whisky, Irish Whiskey, Kentucky (Bourbon), Canadian Whiskey, and Tennessee Whiskey. The disputed two regional whiskeys are Japanese and New Zealand.

Region: Bourbon, Kentucky

Bourbon whiskey is distilled one time in Bourbon, Kentucky (90% of it, that is. Now it's not a requirement that Bourbon be distilled in Bourbon county).
Taste: it's made of mostly corn, so it's sweeter than other whiskeys.
